

Your Name

Lastname 1

Instructor's Name

Class and Hours

Date

Title of Your Response (relate to thesis)

¶ 1 Intro sentence that includes the author's name and title: _____

Author's Beginning: _____

Author's Middle: _____

Author's End: _____

Thesis: Because (c/e) or Even though (c/c) _____

_____, I _____

¶ 2 Topic sentence that relates to Author's Beginning with support: _____

Your example or illustration either in support or opposition: _____

Explanation of why your example is relevant: _____

_____. Transition . . .

¶ 3 Topic sentence that relates to Author's Middle with support: _____

Your example or illustration either in support or opposition: _____

Explanation of why your example is relevant: _____

_____. Transition . . .

¶ 4 Topic sentence that relates to Author's End with support: _____

Your example or illustration either in support or opposition: _____

Explanation of why your example is relevant: _____

_____. Transition . . .

¶ 5 Conclusion, relating back to your thesis and title, in which you explain the significance of your response, what you've learned about this topic, dealing in particular with the bigger picture or more general impact. Remember always, however, to be honest, which is to say that you don't want to approach writing as though you're playing a game with the reader: _____

_____. Hopeful last sentence.